

Union Budget 2025 Expectations Live: Capital goods sector eyes govt spending

Union Budget 2025 Expectations Live: Analysts are optimistic about the sector's prospects, particularly since the upcoming budget is expected to reinforce infrastructure-led growth.

JANUARY 14, 2025 / 17:40 IST

Union Budget 2025 Expectations Latest News Today (January 14): Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman is set to present Modi 3.0's second full budget on February 1, 2025. The 'halwa ceremony' will be held at the Finance Ministry's basement office sometime around Republic Day. While there is a strong buzz around changes in the income tax slabs and slew of other measures to boost the economy, the suspense will end next month when Sitharaman presents her Budget in Parliament. Check Union Budget 2025 Expectations live updates here

JANUARY 14, 2025 / 15:11 IST

Imperative for govt to prioritize policies that accelerate adoption of clean tech, says Chakr Innovation founder

As we approach the Union Budget, it is imperative for the government to prioritize policies that accelerate the adoption of clean technologies and renewable energy. The cleantech sector is keenly observing the potential support for industries committed to sustainability. Initiatives like the PM-KUSUM Scheme and the National Solar Mission have laid the foundation, but additional incentives such as tax benefits, grants, and subsidies will encourage more organizations to transition toward green solutions. Promoting self-reliance under Atmanirbhar Bharat while reducing dependency on external resources will further strengthen India's economic resilience. A focused approach in this direction will not only drive environmental health but also establish India as a leader in sustainability and innovation.- Kushagra Srivastava, founder, Chakr Innovation

