Union Budget 2024: What To Expect For Personal Taxes; Will...

Arun Ghosh, Co-founder, Looqup Data said, "The Budget should allocate higher funds and grant incentives for AI adoption, especially to SMEs to boost their efficiency and growth, so that they can effectively utilise AI - led data management with integrated platforms than to have recurring investments on cloud technologies in order become globally competitive. This will also prove to be an enabler for Atmanirbhar Bharat in its AI mission and accelerate the growth of an AI industry, which is growing at a 30% CAGR."

Budget 2024 LIVE Updates: Kushagra Srivastava, Founder & CEO, Chakr Innovations

Kushagra Srivastava, Founder & CEO, Chakr Innovations said, "In the upcoming Union Budget 2024, a significant focus is expected on clean-tech technologies aimed at improving air quality, responding to the urgent need for environmental sustainability. The economic toll of air pollution is well-documented, and addressing this issue is crucial to achieving India's economic growth objectives. Healthcare costs attributed to air pollution exceed $11 billion, a substantial amount that could be redirected towards broader sustainability efforts. Expanding the scope of environmental initiatives beyond renewable energy generation is essential.

As India gears up for the budget announcement, these sectoral expectations underscore a shared vision for inclusive growth and sustainable development. From real estate's quest for policy reforms to tourism's call for infrastructure investment and sustainability's push for green initiatives, the budget holds immense potential to steer India towards a path of economic resilience and global competitiveness.

The convergence of sectoral expectations reflects a unified aspiration for transformative policies that nurture growth, sustainability, and resilience across key sectors. The forthcoming budget is poised to be a catalyst for India's journey towards a brighter, more prosperous future."

Budget 2024 LIVE Updates: Education | Vaibhav Shastri - Co-Founder & Director of K12 Schools

Vaibhav Shastri - Co-Founder & Director of K12 Schools, "Investing in education is investing in our future. As we transition to a more flexible and global learning environment, we urge a significant increase in the education sector's budget. Prioritizing online schooling with CBSE and other board approvals, facilitating online examinations, and fostering interactive offline classes will ensure our students are globally competitive. Flexible curricula and the use of NCERT books as reference materials will empower our educators and students, aligning with the dynamic needs of the 21st-century education landscape".

Budget 2024 LIVE Updates: Education | Parag Goel, Chief Business Officer at eduXLL

"Online education plays a crucial role in fostering affordability and accessibility for both students and professionals, allowing them to complete their studies while working. Adding a degree helps in personal growth and career advancement, which in turn boosts the market. The current 18% GST on edtech services significantly impacts costs, making it less affordable for many learners. Reducing this GST rate will lower service prices, we can make online education more affordable and fostering growth in the sector. We urge the government to consider this reduction. This synergy is essential for creating a level playing field and enhancing the overall education landscape", said Chief Business Officer at eduXLL, Parag Goel.
